

Sleeping

I'm only happy when I'm close to you
And I realize that its true
When I'm talking to someone, someone completely new
And I'm waiting close to the phone
I will wait until you're calling from home
Do you remember the sadness, travelling all alone?

So I'm waiting far too long
Though I realize that it's wrong
And I listen to something, but its just this song

I'm fading into something new
Believe that it is the glory in you
I'm fading into something new today

You are walking right by my side
And you are there when I turn off the light
And when I want to be all alone I just can hide
I'm only happy when you're shining on me
And I realize that it's free
No more waiting for someone, someone I just can't see

You're floating in the middle
Somehow you sustain
Listening to that glory sound
That says we will remain

I'm fading into something new
Believe that it is the glory in you
I'm fading into something new today